X x Numb. 1150

The Daily Courant.

Thurſday, December 20. 1705.

From the Amſterdam Gazette, dated Dec. 22.

Vienna, December 9.

THE Number of Malecontents on this ſide the Danube being encreas'd to 18 or 20000 Men, Count Palfi having but 200 Foot and 300 Horſe to oppoſe them, put his Foot into Presburg to ſtrengthen the Garriſon of that Place, and is retir'd with his Horſe to the Bridge over the Leitha. The 30th of laſt Month Count Berezeni return'd again to Tirnau, with Deſign, as he gives out, to proceed in the Negociation of Peace. There is no Account yet from the Army under General Herbeville of the Defeat reported to be given the Malecontents on the Frontier of Tranſilvania. Order is ſent to Count Lewenſtein Adminiſtrator of Bavaria to endeavour to quiet the Commotions in that Electorate by treating the revolted Peaſants with Lenity, and complying with all their reaſonable Demands. At the ſame time Order is ſent to Prince Lewis of Baden to ſend ſome Regiments of Imperialiſts to Bavaria. Monſieur Bezo Secretary at War is come hither from Prince Eugene of Savoy, and has repreſented in his Name to the Imperial Court, that there is a Neceſſity for 2 Armies in Italy, one of 30000 and the other of 12000 Men, without which he cannot either paſs the Adda or force the Enemy to a general Engagement in a Country ſo full of Canals and Incloſures.

From the Harlem Courant, dated December 22.

Ratisbon, December 10. The States of the Circles of Swabia and Franconia, have excuſed themſelves from ſending any Troops to aſſiſt in reducing the revolted Peaſants of Bavaria. But ſome of the Duke of Wirremberg's Troops and others are on the March into that Electorate. The ſaid Peaſants have made ſome Propoſals to the Imperial Officers, as Heads of an Accomodation, viz. that no Peaſants ſhall be forced into the Imperial Service; that all Peaſants who are Houſe-keepers, ſhall be free of all Impoſts for one Year; that all Soldiers Garriſon'd in fortified Places or Quartered elſewhere, march out of the Country, leaving their Fire-Arms behind them; and that in caſe after an Accommodation ſhall be concluded any Troops ſhall come on the Frontiers of Bavaria, it ſhall be lawful for the Peaſants immediately to draw together in Arms to prevent their Entring the Country.

From the Paris Letter, dated Dec. 18.

Paris, Dec. 18. We have Advice from Cadix and other Parts of Spain, that the Enemy are making Preparation for tranſporting from Lisbon 4000 Men and great Stores of Ammunition and Proviſions to Catalonia. The Marſhal de Villars is come from Strasburg to Metz; and after he has ſettled the Winter-Quarters of the Troops he will come to Court for a Month. Monſieur Poucher, the moſt eminent Perſon concern'd in writing the Journal des Scavans, is dead. The Count d' Aguilar has taken Leave of the King in order to return to Madrid. The laſt Letters from the Duke of Vendome took Notice, that in the great Floods in Italy a Cradle was carried down by the Stream from Pavia to the Ferrareze, where a Child and a little Dog were found in it alive. Monſieur du Caſſe, who was coming hither from Cadiz, is fallen ſick by the Way.

Hague, Dec. 22. A Conference was held here a few Days ago between the Miniſters of the Potentates that are Guarantees of the Treaty of Travendahl, touching the Succeſſion of Lubeck: But nothing was done, more then that they declar'd the Sentiments their reſpective Principals had of that Affair. Particularly thoſe of Sweden and Hanover renew'd their former Declaration, that their Maſters were determin'd to maintain the ſaid Treaty in all Points. 'Tis believ'd the States will ſhortly ſatisfy the Demands of the King of Pruſſia relating to the 2500 Men he has in their Pay in the Netherlands; and that upon their ſo doing his Pruſſian Majeſty will let thoſe Troops continue in their Service. The States of the Province of Holland have not yet given any Anſwer to the Memorial of the Pruſſian Miniſter for Exemption from the Tax of the hundredth Penny; but ſome Perſons that were taken into Arreſt upon that Account are ſet at Liberty. General Fagel, to juſtify his Conduct before Badajox, has put to the Preſs a Relation of all that paſs'd on that Occaſion, with a Plan of the Town. 'Tis talk'd a Lieutenant General will be ſent with the Regiments deſign'd for Catalonia, to command our Troops in that Principality; and that Baron Spar or Monſieur Heukelom will be nominated to that Command. The Count de Hornes is ſent for from Breda, he and the Marquis d' Alegre being to go over to England with the Duke of Marlborough.

London, December 20.

The Port Letters adviſe that the Warwick ſail'd from Plymouth on the 15th, with ſeveral Ships to the Eaſtward; and that the Nottingham which was the only Convoy wanting from Barcelona, is arriv'd at Portſmouth, with ſome others of the Tranſport Ships under her Convoy. Vice-Admiral Allemonde, is alſo atriv'd at Portſmouth; he loſt his Fore-Maſt in the Bay of Biſcay: Another Dutch Man of War and ſome Dutch Tranſport Ships are put into Torbay; and 2 other Dutch Men of War that came from Barcelona with Vice-Admiral Allemonde are not yet come in. The George Tranſport, Capt. Purvis Commander, founderd at Sea, but the Captain and all the Men were ſav'd. The Fleet for Holland that were in Yarmouth Roads with their Convoy, ſail'd from thence the 15th Inſtant: as did the Eaſt Country Fleet bound for the River, with their Convoy, and they were off Harwich the 18th; the Convoys are, the Rumney, Greenwich and Aſſiſtance.

By the Charles Galley, ſaid in our former to be arriv'd at Briſtol from Jamaica (but laſt from new England) 'tis adviſ'd that thoſe Jamaica Ships that were at New-York, were to meet thoſe from New-England, in the Latitude of Fyal; but he being ſeperated before, knows not whither they did or not.

A Merchant having receiv'd from Dover the following Liſt of Ships, which being blown out of the Downes in the late Storm are come ſafe into the Peer of Dover, thinks it proper to be publiſh'd.
